University and State.

The University of Michigan is a part of the public educational system of the state. The governing body of the institution is a Board of Regents, elected by popular vote for terms of eight years, as provided in the constitution of the state. In accordance with the laws of the state, the University aims to complete the work that is begun in the public school, by furnishing ample facilities for liberal education in literature, science, and the arts, and for high professional study of engineering, medicine, law, pharmacy, and dentistry. Through the aid that has been received from the United States and from the state, it is enabled to offer its privileges, with only moderate charges, to all persons of either sex who are qualified for admission. While Michigan has endowed her University primarily for the higher education of her own sons and daughters, it must be understood that she also opens the doors of the institution to all students, wherever their homes. It is in this broad, generous, and hospitable spirit that the University has been founded, and that it endeavors to do its work.

THE REV. IRL. R. HICKS 1905 ALMANAC.

The Rev. Irl. R. Hicks Almanac for 1905 is now ready, being the finest edition ever issued. This splendid and costly book of 200 pages is a complete study of astronomy and storm and weather for 1905. It is too well known to need comment. See it and you will so decide. The price, postpaid to any address, is 30c. per copy. The Rev. Irl. R. Hicks' scientific, religious and family journal, WORD AND WORKS, now abreast with the best magazines, is 75c. a year. Both WORD AND WORKS and the Almanac $1.00 per year. No better investment possible for any person or family. Try it and see. Send to

A CLERGYMAN'S STARTLING NOTICE

A Clergyman was very anxious to introduce some hymn-books into the church, and arranged with his clerk that the latter was to give out the notice immediately after the sermon. The clerk, however, had a notice of his own to give out with reference to the baptism of infants. Accordingly, at the close of the sermon he arose and announced that those who have children whom they wish to have baptized please send their names at once to the clerk. The clergyman who was seated beside him, and that the clerk was giving out the notice, and immediately rose and said, "And I should say, for the benefit of those who haven't any, that they may obtain some from the ushers any day from three to four o'clock; the ordinary little ones, at one shilling each, and special ones at one shilling and fourpence."

Slayton Jubilees

Next Friday.

The opening number of the High School Lecture Course is to be given at Loveday Opera House next Friday evening, Dec. 10th. The attraction—Slayton's Jubilee Singers—is too well known to American Audiences to need any special introduction. "The greatest company of colored artists that ever appeared here" has been the universal verdict of press and public wherever this superb attraction has appeared. Get a couple ticket for $1.00 and enjoy five of the best attractions ever given in a lecture course anywhere.

"Notwithstanding the strong counter attraction of last evening, the spacious Lyceum was packed from top to bottom. Every seat on the floor, in the boxes, balconies, and even on the stage was occupied. The entertainment was furnished by Slayton's Jubilee Singers, eight in number, and if one can judge by the applause and number of encores demanded, the Company was very successful. The program was rendered with enthusiasm and the dash and swing characteristic of colored singers. A number of the selections were of a humorous character and the promise of "Fun and Melody by the Act," as announced on the program, was fully kept.—Rochester (N. Y.) News. At Loveday Opera House next Friday evening under auspices of H. S. Lecture Course.

Pointed Paragraphs.

A young woman entered a drug store recently and asked the clerk for a sponge bath. Then she blushed and said she meant a bath sponge.

This week one of the little girls in the primary room, was asked to write a sentence using the expression the "higher end," whereupon, following on her slate: "A bulldog chased my kitty and as she went under the porch he bit her end."

An Englewood doctor, of a lady whose foot he was treating for a severe sprain. After examining the injured foot, he asked the lady to bare the other, that he might compare their size, to see the amount of inflammation. He was answered, the lady replying: "But, doctor, I can't take off my stocking; I only wash this one foot."

This is the way a country editor wrote up a recent wedding: "The bride was the loveliest, but well meaning parents, could walk alone at six months; at ten, could run real fast, and has never been married. She has many friends—most of them dead ones. The happy couple took a bridal trip to the Cross Roads, and will be at home with the old man until they are killed out."

Chula (Mo.) News—"Oh, my goodness, you mustn't do that. Why, you have put your arm round me," said a Chula girl to a young man, the other night. "That's true," said the young man. "Well, I can't put it," said the Chula girl; "will you just two hours to take it away." And the moon winked the other eye as retired behind a big beam over on Honey creek.

A certain young man took a young lady of pronounced prohibition opinions to a city theatre one evening, and as the curtain came down after the first act he hurriedly left his seat, remarking I think I hear a fire alarm, I must go and see about it. He returned in ten minutes chewing a clove, and said, "Well, it wasn't there." "And it wasn't water," tartly replied the lady.

A Sioux City firm advertised for a lady stenographer who must have red hair, wear short skirts and not use perfume. The want red hair, for red headed girls are wide awake and full of business; short skirts because they had an office boy to do the sweeping, and no perfume because, being in the soap business, they had bad smells enough.

Pass the butter, gentle Mary; shove it lightly through the air, for in the cover of the dish, lady, you will find a nut brown hair. When fond memories it awakens of the days that we were wed, when upon my fine coat collar of you have laid your little head. No longer I've scolded those tresses in the days that have gone by; now I find them every meal time in the butter and the pie.

Chula Stanhope, St. Louis: "I used to have a horrid complexion. I took Polaris Rocky Mountain Tea and I called the pink girl in the city." Tea or tablets, each contains 100 grains of F. C. Warner's.

Reorganizing.

The elephant looked with some curiosity at the animal on the other side of the partition. "What are they trying to do to you, my friend?" asked the elephant. The other animal was a forlorn looking creature whose long ears had been tied back and tied down. His body had been painted white, a yellow line fastened to its neck, and some seemed to be engaged in making a flowing addition to its tail. It was a wild, swift kick with both feet, and the body went flying out through the window, carrying the sash along. "The blame fools are trying to reorganize me," brayed the enraged animal.—Chicago Tribune.
